Last week in Year 6: Year 6 have worked brilliantly learning about ratio and scale factors in Maths. They have looked at examples of recipes, checking how many it serves and calculating how much of each ingredient would be needed to serve different numbers of people. They thought about why it was important to keep the ratios of ingredients the same, no matter how many people you were serving. They have also enjoyed working on their space toy sewing projects - here are a few finished ones from Class 14.

Last week in Year 1:

The children have been learning about counting in 2s, 5s and 10s. Who knew it could be such fun?

Last week in Year 4: Last Friday, the chairs in Year 4 decided to quit! The children were given a week to convince the chairs to stay. During the week, we learnt about persuasive devices (rhetorical questions, repetition, expanded noun phrases and imperative verbs) to help make their letters really convincing. They wrote fantastic letters, which persuaded the chairs to stay in Year 4!

We have also been enjoying our Viking topic. Last week in Art, we learnt all about Viking longships and their features. Did you know, the Vikings set captured birds free to help navigate them to land? We spent the lesson carefully sketching the longships. This week, we will be drawing a larger version and painting it.

School Crossing Patrol: Apologies, there will be no lollipop lady assisting on Upwell Road on Thursday 29th April.

Contractors on site: Later this week a small property project will start - this is to remove and replace two of the school boilers located in the plant room next to our catering kitchen. As you arrive at school you will notice the contractors taking over a section of the school car park, but they will stay out of the way during our staggered start and finish times. We expect the project to take about 5 weeks to complete.
