Last week in Nursery:

The children who are off to school in September have been working very hard at learning their sounds. We have seen lots of the children pretending to be the adult with the sound cards and using the dolls to be the children with the listening ears. There was great excitement in the Nursery garden as the butterflies were ready to leave us and explore the world. They had a wonderful send off with much clapping and waves of farewell as they fluttered off onto their new adventures! The children have enjoyed Jack and the Beanstalk and have retold the story many times over the week, using puppets and props. Room two even managed to 'grow' their own beanstalk and used this to tell the tale.

Last week in Year 1: In Year 1 we have been learning about how to make a robot move. We started this learning off by investigating the ways in which we could control a Beebot. We used the buttons to give the Beebot a set of instructions on where to move and learnt how to clear these after we had finished. Next lesson, we are going to be turning into robots ourselves! We have also been showing our creative side linked to our Farm topic. We created a tractor painting using the printing technique. We had great fun drawing and cutting out our tractor design before using a roller to roll the paint over our image to create our print.

Last week in Year 4:

Each class has been working hard over the last two months to improvise then write a scene for play. With help from a visiting expert, they learnt more about acting techniques and finally on Friday they performed for their families as part of our summer concert. The children really brought Narnia to life as they traveled through the wardrobe and introduced exciting new characters. The professional standard staging with sound and lights added to their excitement! This is part of a wider project across the Elliot Foundation with funding from the Arts Council and Festival Bridge.

A few years ago, we started to organise the recycling of crisp packets through school, thanks to support of our Eco Council and some wonderful parent helpers. As the supermarkets have all started to offer this facility now, we will no longer offer crisp packet recycling through school after the end of this term. Please take your flexible plastics to Tesco, Sainsbury's or the Co-op.
