

Hello Year 1

We're nearly at the end of another week. Tomorrow is a bank holiday so you won't be sent any learning. Tomorrow is also VE day and we'll be finding out a bit more about that.

Maths

Half of amounts

To find half of an amount you put your objects into 2 groups - you are splitting them into half.

The 2 groups must have the same amount of objects to make it equal.

I have 10 pencils and I split them into 2 groups. I have 5 in each group.

Half of 10 is 5.

What can you find to split into 2 groups - will the starting number be odd or even?

Find some objects and do the same with quarters. This time you need 4 equal groups. When we quarter we split into 4. Some numbers don't quarter very easily so try these starting numbers - 4,8,12,16,20. They are all multiples of 4.

Phonics

Don't forget to catch the phonics lessons

Lessons are uploaded at: Reception 10.00, Year 1 10.30, and blending 11.00.

VE Day

Tomorrow (May 8th) we celebrate the 75th anniversary of the end of WW2. The event was called Victory in Europe day (VE Day) Your grandparents parents were probably children when VE took place. It was a very big event as people had struggled with war for 6 years.

The celebration tomorrow was going to be special. A lot of special event and parties had been planned and people were going to have a day off work. Unfortunately, because we're all in lockdown they are all postponed.

Look at the powerpoint I have sent and you might find out a little bit more. Remember it was 75 years ago - our Queen Elizabeth was a Princess then as he dad was the King, She was 19 years old.

Imagine you were a child when war was declared over. What would you be doing? How would you be feeling and why? You could draw a picture about how you would celebrate.

Art and Craft

When you have read it, try some of these activities.

Making red white and blue pompoms <https://www.bbcgoodfood.com/howto/guide/how-make-pom-pom>

Bunting to colour in <https://www.bakerross.co.uk/craft-ideas/teachers/ve-day-anniversary-colour-in-bunting/> (pictures)

Family at VE day to colour - see attachment

Make carrot cookies - I might try this one. See the attachment

Lulu is in the garden looking for bugs. She's managed to find a twig so far!

Humphrey is sitting in something that has appeared outside the Year 1 classrooms!!

One or two parents are finding their emails are not getting to us. Bear with us - we are relying so much on technology and things go astray or it might be that there are too many pictures for one email. If you haven't hear form us within 24 hours (maybe longer at the weekend) its likely that something has gone wrong. Please try again, we love to see your work.

Have a lovely weekend and look out for us on Monday. Please email on admin@cavalryprimaryschool.org.
